"You will make amazing friends and will be able to clear your mind. The nature will be amazing and incredible"

Avanthika, South West camper

About Us

Action for Conservation's (AFC) mission is to bring the magic of nature into young people's lives, inspiring a youth movement committed to conservation and to the earth.

We're a small team working in North West England, South East England, South West England and South Wales.

We're campaigners, marine and forest experts, ecologists, geographers and youth engagement specialists.

During the school year, we provide young people with knowledge, skills and resources to take environmental action in their schools and communities. Come the summer, we hit the great outdoors for epic adventures in the heart of the UK's National Parks, exploring nature with inspiring young people from across the country.

About Camp

Why Apply To Camp?

Action for Conservation believes that every young person has the power to help the planet. Camps are a chance to explore nature, learn about environmental and social justice, and discover how you can take action. Plus you'll make unforgettable memories and friendships that last a lifetime!

Are you looking for the ultimate summer escape? Do you want to discover amazing wildlife and immerse yourself in nature?

Then we want to meet you! Whether you've never explored the outdoors before or you're an expert on environmental issues - our camps are for you. Don't worry if you don't know absolutely everything about nature because that's what camp is for!

This is an all-inclusive, once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for an incredible summer adventure. Join us!

Camp Activities

Our activities focus on connecting young people to the natural world whilst empowering and inspiring them to join the growing movement of young people taking action for nature and people around the world.

You'll go on guided nature walks, explore beaches and woodlands, participate in nature restoration activities, play outdoor games, learn about conservation careers, stargaze and much, much more!

A photograph of two young people, a boy and a girl, standing in a grassy field. They are both wearing blue jackets and yellow gloves. The boy is holding a yellow tool, and the girl is holding a small plant. In the background, there is a valley with rolling hills and fields under a cloudy sky.

"My highlights were going on walks to see the different views and habitats. Going stargazing and overall, appreciating nature in a new way."

Yoosef, South East camper

Eligibility

Applicants must be:

- 12-16 years old at the time of camp
- Living in England or Wales
- Be available to attend one of the six camps listed on page 6

If your application is successful, we will allocate you to one of our camps listed on page 6. Our decision will be based on a number of factors including your proximity to our three priority regions. Young people living outside of our priority regions are still welcome to apply and if you are successful we will allocate you to a camp.

We are unable to accept applications from young people who have previously attended an AFC Summer Camp.

Not 12 years old yet?

If you won't be 12 in time for camps this summer, don't worry! You can apply next year.

GETTING TO & FROM CAMP

Our camp leaders will travel with campers to and from camp from the following pick-up/drop-off locations:

- North West: Manchester and one additional pick-up location dependent on where campers live.
- South West: Bristol & Newport
- South East: London & Eastbourne

Young people can also be dropped off at the site.

ACCOMMODATION

Each bunkhouse has a unique layout. Some consist of shared dormitories while others consist of a combination of twin rooms and private rooms. The details of your bunkhouse will be shared ahead of camp and if you feel the accommodation is unsuitable for you we will try and arrange a suitable alternative where possible. If you have any questions about the accommodation please get in touch with our team.

COSTS

The camp is all-inclusive, which means accommodation, food and activities are paid for. We will also pay for transportation to the site from the designated pick-up point and the return journey. Campers may bring a small amount of pocket money as there may be opportunities to buy snacks and souvenirs.

EQUIPMENT

If you are accepted onto camp, you will be sent an Information Pack with details on what to bring. If you do not own a piece of equipment (e.g. walking boots) please let our team know and we will do our best to source these items to avoid you purchasing new clothing.

MOBILE PHONES AND LAPTOPS

While campers can bring their mobile phones to camp, we ask young people to keep them in their rooms during the day outside of free time. We collect all phones at night to ensure campers get an uninterrupted night's sleep. The use of sleep aids (e.g. audiobooks or podcasts) will be discussed with participants ahead of camp. We also ask that campers do not bring laptops, tablets, iPads or personal gaming devices (e.g. Nintendo Switch). Please note that the quality of signal on camp can be poor and intermittent (in particular at the Ashbourne site) and campers should not rely on being able to connect to the internet.

CONTACT WITH PARENTS/GUARDIANS

Staff members will carry mobile phones which campers will be able to use if they need to contact home. Parents/guardians will also be issued with staff contact numbers during the preparation stages of the camp.

CAMP LEADERS

Camps are run by the Action for Conservation team, who are present for the entirety of the camp, and other environmentalists from organisations who lead specific activities. We may also have a photographer and videographer with us to document the adventure.

SUPERVISION, SAFEGUARDING AND SECURITY

Safety and security are extremely important to us. All staff and volunteers receive the appropriate training and background checks, adhering to our Child Safeguarding Policy. Campers will be supervised and all venues and activities are rigorously assessed to ensure the highest standards of safety.

Behaviour Expectations: Young People Code of Conduct

We want all campers to feel safe and happy before, during and after the camp, which is why we ask all campers to agree to follow the AFC Young People Code of Conduct, found below.

WHAT WE EXPECT FROM YOU

- Participate in activities with enthusiasm and positivity and let us know if you ever need more support in the actions you are taking.
- Treat your peers, our staff, volunteers and members of the public with respect and kindness at all times, regardless of gender, age, ethnicity, disability, sexuality or religious beliefs. We will not tolerate any incidents of bullying or exclusion.
- Act as a positive role model – this includes using appropriate language and behaviour. Remember that young people from a range of ages take part in our activities and programmes, so please ensure your discussions are appropriate for everyone.
- Keep yourself and other young people safe during in-person activities by listening to the guidance given by the AFC team, behaving responsibly and speaking out if something isn't right.
- Keep yourself and other young people safe online by following the safety guidance shared by the AFC team and by not sharing any personal information like surnames, addresses, mobile numbers or photos of other young people online. Please ask the AFC team if you are unsure about whether a post is appropriate.
- Ensure that your relationships and communications with other young people in the AFC network remain professional in nature and are age-appropriate.
- Do not bring or use alcohol, cigarettes, vapes or illegal substances, or engage in other illegal activities such as theft or vandalism whilst taking part in activities. These activities should not be discussed in person or online.
- Report all incidents, inappropriate behaviour or risky situations to your parent/guardian and the AFC team.

Behaviour Expectations: Young People Code of Conduct

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT FROM US

- Ensure that we and the young people on camp uphold the Code of Conduct.
- Provide young people and their parent(s) or guardian(s) with the information they need to keep safe during camp.
- Ensure that all young people feel respected and safe on camp, and challenge any behaviour that doesn't uphold this.
- Ensure that our activities are inclusive and accessible and make changes if we fall short.
- Be excellent role models and mentors for the young people we work with.
- Respond to all concerns and incidents and act in a timely manner.

WHAT HAPPENS IF THE CODE OF CONDUCT IS NOT FOLLOWED?

Minor or first-time incident. If a young person behaves in a way that doesn't follow our Code of Conduct, our staff or volunteers will remind them about it and ask them to change their behaviour. This gives them the chance to think and to plan how they could behave differently, with support from us.

Formal warning. If a young person continues not to follow the Code of Conduct after their first reminder, they will be given a formal warning. We will make a record of what happened and inform the young person's parent(s) or guardians(s) if it is appropriate. We will talk with the young person about what happened and agree on what support they need to improve their behaviour in the future. We might also decide that further steps should be taken, such as restricting them from taking part in some activities.

Final warning. If the support we have put in place isn't helping a young person to change their behaviour, we will give them a final warning. Again, this will be recorded and we will inform their parent(s) or guardians(s) as appropriate. If the young person's behaviour doesn't change following the final warning we will arrange for a parent or guardian to collect them from camp early.

Serious breaches of the Code of Conduct. In rare circumstances where a young person seriously breaches the Code of Conduct and we feel other young people are at serious risk of harm, we may arrange for a parent or guardian to collect them from camp immediately.

Section 2

For Young People

What Do Young People Think Of Camp?

GAZI

“ Camp made me feel like I was part of something. I’ve felt quite insignificant and small before, but now I just feel like I can make a difference and be better. I feel more confident and know myself better after camp. I used to get scared of bugs and insects before but now I’m kind of feeling free to just explore and try to be connected with them because they are living things. I’ll definitely talk to my friends about camp and tell them about all the various experiences, like the coast, the woodlands, the forests. ”

REESE

“ I feel like it’s really important for kids my age and younger to go into this sort of stuff. Especially if they are city kids, they need to have that. That touch of nature. It strengthens your social skills, it makes you more aware of different causes going on around the world. And even if it doesn’t do that for you, it just lets you be free with nature. ”

MAISIE

“ I think camp is an important opportunity because it helps young people connect with nature and have opportunities to see things they may have never done before. I learned so much stuff that I’d never even known about before. It’s important because a lot of us are from the city and don’t get to connect with nature as much. After camp I feel much more passionate about fixing stuff now that I know how. ”

For Parents & Guardians

Information For Parents & Guardians

CANCELLATION POLICY

Parents/guardians must contact us at least three weeks in advance of camp if you need to cancel your child's place. AFC covers the full cost of delivering camps for all young people, and last-minute cancellations make it very difficult to re-allocate the space to enable other young people to take part in this fantastic opportunity and result in the charity losing funds that we are unable to reclaim.

Cancellations made with less than three weeks' notice may result in a cancellation fee of £50 if we are unable to fill the space.

APPLYING ON BEHALF OF A YOUNG PERSON

Young people should write their own camp application and parents/guardians should never apply for camp on behalf of their child without their consent and involvement in the process. Young people may need support with their application and we ask that parents/guardians approach this collaboratively, ensuring that their child is taking the lead wherever possible (see tips on page 18). Encouraging young people to actively lead in writing their application empowers them and ensures that they are genuinely enthusiastic about the opportunity. This, in turn, contributes to a more positive and engaging environment for everyone on camp.

How to Support Your Child's Application

- Read through this application pack with your child.
- Discuss if your child would like to apply. Do they have any concerns about applying or attending the Summer Camps?
- Discuss what environmental issues are important to them. If they are unsure help them research some environmental groups local to your area. E.g. Friends of Local Park Groups, your local Wildlife Trust, River, Canal and beach clean-up groups.
- Ask them to think about any problems they've seen on local streets, in parks or in other areas like canals, woods and beaches. Or if they learnt about issues from the news or on social media.
- Encourage them to be creative with their application. Help them film their video or support them to find and use craft materials.
- We want to see that young people are eager to tackle an environmental problem and not that they know absolutely everything about the problem or how to solve it - that's what the camp is for!
- Please do not answer the application questions for your child.

ANSWERING THE APPLICATION QUESTIONS

While we don't ask for a specific word count, we do want to fully understand the details and complexities of your ideas, so please answer in as much detail as possible.

Remember, we want to see that you are eager to tackle an environmental problem and not that you know absolutely everything about the problem or how to solve it - that's what the camp is for!

APPLYING WITH A FRIEND

You can apply to camp as an individual or with a friend or relative. If you decide to apply with someone else, you both must submit your own Application Forms and answer the Application Questions independently.

SUBMITTING YOUR APPLICATION-ONLINE

You can record your answers to the three Application Questions and complete the Application Forms directly online here. You can upload additional materials (like artwork or videos) to the online form too.

SUBMITTING YOUR APPLICATION-BY EMAIL OR POST

Answer the Application Questions listed on page 21 and complete the Application Forms on pages 22-25. You can answer the Application Questions directly on page 21, in writing on a separate document, by taking a video of yourself or by creating a voice recording answering these questions.
